FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ALHC ANNOUNCES WINNERS OF ART SHOWS AT RECENT MEETING

HENDERSONVILLE, NC, May 24, 2017 – The Art League of Henderson County congratulates the following artists selected by the membership as finalists in this past May 21 meeting art shows.

Winner of the Floral Member’s Challenge was Al Junek of Hendersonville with his pastel painting titled, “Framed in Wisteria.” The Viewer’s Choice First Place award went to Connie Poulnot, of Hendersonville, with her oil painting titled, “Cabin: A Little Bit of Heaven,” and Annie Kramer, of Flat Rock, awarded Honorable Mention with her acrylic titled, “View From My Kitchen.” Being a member of ALHC allows members to display their art work and enter ALHC sponsored art shows. Member Challenges offer winning artists gift certificates donated by local businesses, and during selective shows, winners receive cash prizes.

The art league conducts its meetings at the Opportunity House, 1411 Asheville Highway, Hendersonville. They meet the second Sunday of each month through November, December’s meeting being the annual Christmas Party held at a local country club.

Beginner through seasoned artists who work in all 2D mediums or interested in art, are invited to attend ALHC monthly meetings on the second Sunday of each month. Each meeting consists of a Meet and Greet Reception with refreshments at 1:30 p.m., a short business meeting at 2 p.m., then generally an educational demonstration and presentation by a local or regional recognized professional artist follows. ALHC meetings are free, and open to the general public as guests. Individual membership for one year is $45, couples $65. ALHC supports local middle and high school art teachers with fundraising events throughout the year to provide art supplies for young area artists.
